

PC JIMS COURTS is a modern graphical user interface (GUI) that simplifies many of the routine tasks performed by Clerk staff. GUIs have elements now familiar to most everyone from Microsoft Windows® programs and internet web pages. Standard elements like drop-down lists and drop-down menus allow new users to learn the program rapidly.

Remind me, what was the green screen thing? Anyone without PC JIMS doesn't know what they're missing.
--Neal Watkins, prior Johnson County Circuit Clerk

I love the PC program! There's so much that is so much easier.
--Betty Luckman, Livingston County Deputy Clerk

REAL-TIME COURT CALL PROCESSING

While many courts know that every important function of PC JIMS can be accessed from the hub, some Circuit Clerks and judges are processing each day's case load right in court, without ever having to search for a case or touch a paper file. Use the Hearings tab of the PC JIMS hub to sort cases just as on the printed docket. This lets you efficiently update JIMS as you move through the docket using the hub's existing access to all major JIMS functions, including:

- Find a slot and set the next hearing
- Access the complete digital case file in JIMAS IMAGING, which can be set to go directly to the most recent document in case the judge wants to open the pleading under consideration that day. Some of our courts even connect a second monitor to the Clerk's courtroom PC, and pull up the pleading for the judge.
- Make a record sheet entry – one judge in Clinton County avoids typing by dictating his entries and using transcription software
- Dispose and close a case

What good is a docket when litigants show up early or late?

This problem can be managed using the Bailiff tab in PC JIMS. Arriving litigants are checked-in using PC JIMS BAILIFF. The information about who has arrived shows for the courtroom clerk in the lower window of the Bailiff tab in PC JIMS. The case for each litigant that has arrived shows highlighted orange in the Hub.

To begin a hearing, the courtroom clerk simply clicks the name of the desired litigant in the lower window, and gets placed onto that case in the Case Management Hub. When finished with that litigant, simply delete their name from the lower window, and click on the next litigant (in the lower window). This will place you onto that case in the Hub.

CIVIL DISPOSITIONING

Dispositioning civil cases is simple. The civil disposition screen is so easy to read that it helps users confirm that they are entering data correctly as they go.

- Use drop-down boxes to select the litigants who are party to a certain disposition.
